WHITTIER GETS A PRIZE.

The enterprising little City of Whit-The enterprising little City of Whittier, Cal., has been chosen by George Randolph Chester as an ideal town for his new Vitagraph special production, "The Son of Wallingford." A live, progressive community was required for the scenes, and the Whitter Chamber of Commerce offered such inducements in the way of co-pertition that this municipality was selected. It will be necessary for crowds of the citizens to appear in the play.
